Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 11, 16, 17 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
2. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 11 recites the broad recitation a control/evaluation unit determines and/or monitors volume flow rate of the medium, and the claim also recites that the control/evaluation unit calculates at least one of the system-or process parameters necessary to determine the volume flow rate which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 11 is objected to because of the following informalities: The phrase, "is dimensional such that" seems to be erroneous. Appropriate correction is required.

Art Unit: 2855

4. Claim 21 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 21 does not further limit claim 11 as it includes the limitation that the flowmeter is a clamp on flowmeter. Such a limitation is included in claim 1 where it indicates the flowmeter has two ultrasonic transducers that are clamped on the containment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 11, 16, 17 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Russwurm (5,351,560) in view of Su (6,460,419).

Russwurm teaches the device as claimed including an inherent and essential element, the control or evaluation unit. Russwurm does not explicitly describe the control unit, but such an element would be an inherent element in order to process the measured signals. Fig. 1 shows an entire structure of the instant invention including the beam spread as labeled inhere and thus the claims as claimed considered anticipated since such a structure would inherently have a large opening for the waves to be transmitted as shown in Fig. 1 to form a "V" or a "W" shape. A minimum separation between the two transducers is represented by distance " L_m ". Russwurm does not teach the uses of a specific process parameter including, however, Su teaches the use of determining the inner diameter of the pipe in the computation of flow rate. It would be obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the determined inner diameter in the computation of the flow volume since such a value would provide better and reliable measurement results.
